Dogman Party

Thanks for coming to our DogMan Party on Monday, April 21! We had a blast making Supa Buddies, eating snacks, learning fingerprinting from Broome County Sheriff's Office, animal safety from Broome County Health Department, had friends from The Broome County Humane Society, and much more! We appreciate our community partners and are grateful for our friends who attended.

Staff Book Review

Laura - Youth Services

If you are looking for a fiction book to read that is a little bit different, try "Sea of Tranquility" by Emily St. John Mandel. The book starts in the past when a young Englishman travels to the Pacific Northwest and has an unsettling experience in the remote and wild forests there. Then the story moves to the not-too-distant future, where an author is traveling the world on a tour to promote her new book but is pining for her young family, at home on the colony of the moon. While she is traveling, a pandemic unfolds and threatens her ability to get home. A third storyline takes place even further into the future and follows a man dissatisfied with his life. He loses his job and has a tense relationship with his sister, and is looking for something that will bring him meaning and purpose. The fun of the book is seeing how these three narratives fit together and the author beautifully writes a compelling story that will leave you wanting to figure out how these three characters relate to each other. I really enjoyed this book and found the ending very satisfying.
